A Holiday Spectacle on Onion Street

It is a delightful part of the Holiday Season to come together as a community and watch the lights of City Hall turned on to begin celebrating this season of giving.

We were honored to have the oldest member of our community (Rod Stringham 100 years old) flick the switch to watch the magic of the season begin at City Hall after hearing a few fun songs of the season from one of our community's favorite singing groups "Echoes of the Heart."

Santa visited with many good little girls and boys of West Bountiful and community crafters of the Onion Street Boutique sold beautiful handmade goods. We had live entertainment from the Bountiful High band thanks to the efforts and good organization of Danny Turnblom. Residents along our Historic District took lots of time and prepared their homes with beautiful lights so that we could enjoy a cold, blustery, but enjoyable ride up and down Onion Street on a Hayride organized by Terri Olsen and the Youth City Council.

We look forward to keeping these traditions of our city and adding more in the years to come. The Arts Council, Youth Council and Historical Commission welcome your ideas and suggestions in making this event the best it can be.

Rocky Mountain Power Plans New Transmission Line

A new transmission lines project will soon take construction as part of Rocky Mountain Power's commitment to provide safe, reliable and efficient electrical service to customers in Utah, Idaho and Wyoming.

The company will be constructing a new double-circuit 345 kilobolt transmission line from Ben Lomond substation to Box Elder County, to the Terminal substation located near the Salt Lake City International Airport. This line will be built along side of the existing Rocky Mountain Power right of way. Project construction will begin approximately June 2008. For more information you may visit their website at www.rockymountainpower.net/transmission. The project name is Ben Lomond to Terminal 345kV transmission line.

Youth Choir to be Formed

Watch for coming news about the opportunity for students of West Bountiful Elementary to participate in a Youth Choir. Any student interested can participate but will need to commit to some practice times before or after school. This choir will be invited to sing in community events as well as school events.

Melanie Miller a 4th Grade Teacher at West Bountiful, is hosting this opportunity with the help of the West Bountiful City Arts Council.
